

FIRST PRINCIPLES

Instructor: Dave Helm

DESCRIPTION

This course introduces some of the foundational convictions and skills for Bible teaching. The discussions on convictions renew one's commitment to expository Bible teaching and offer fresh motivation. The skills presented provide principles that allow the Bible teacher to more clearly listen to what the text itself communicates.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this Course:

- Students will grow in their commitment to expository Bible teaching.
- Students will improve the quality of their own study and preparation for teaching by listening more carefully to the text of Scripture.
- Students will become more confident in interpreting and teaching a Bible passage because of their increasing skill in allowing the Scripture inform and shape their lessons/sermons.
- Students will allow the taught Word itself to inform their lives in ways consistent with the reasons the Holy Spirit saw fit to include them in Scripture.
- Students will be able to more appropriately apply God's Word to the lives of God's people today.

COURSE FORMAT

This course is divided into two primary components:

- The first component is instruction for the student's apprehension of convictions, skills, and principles for studying and teaching the Bible. The instruction component is delivered through the lectures. Students should complete the study questions while, or immediately after, watching the video instructions.
- The second component is practice. Students will independently apply some of the skills and principles taught in the course. This is done by completing the Outline Preparation Worksheet for some or all of the passages assigned for each lesson. Students will then present their work (as an Outline or as a Message or Sermon—this will be determined by your group coordinator) in a group for discussion and analysis aimed at improving each student's work. For help on completing the Outline Preparation Worksheet see the Student Presentation Guide.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Each student is expected to:

- Attentively view all video lectures and thoughtfully complete the written study questions.
- Prepare outlines or sermons or messages for each practice text, employing skills taught in the lectures.
